Lee’s Summit Physician Named Regional Medical Director of National Healthcare Provider

Sunrise, FL (May 15, 2012)

Florida-based Sheridan Healthcare, Inc. has announced the promotion of Dr. Darlicia Alexander to regional medical director. In her new role she will be responsible for clinical operations and regional business development in the Kansas/Missouri Midwest markets, which includes Sheridan Healthcare’s newest anesthesiology program at St. Joseph’s Medical Center in Kansas City, Mo.

Dr. Alexander has nearly 15 years of medical experience and has been with Sheridan Healthcare since 2006, currently serving as the chairperson of the anesthesiology department at Lee’s Summit Medical Center in Lee’s Summit, Mo. Prior to joining Sheridan Healthcare, Dr. Alexander worked in private practice at Kansas Professional Anesthesiologist and Pain Management Specialists in Wichita, Kan.

“A valuable member of the anesthesiology team, Darlicia has demonstrated a commitment to the anesthesiology field with strong leadership and business development skills,” said Dr. Gilbert Drozdow, president of the anesthesiology division of Sheridan Healthcare, Inc. “She will excel in her new position expanding Sheridan’s anesthesiology services in the Midwest.”

A resident of Lee’s Summit, Dr. Alexander completed her residency in anesthesiology at St. Luke’s Medical Center in Kansas City and received her Doctor of Medicine degree from University of Missouri at Kansas City.
